About Me

Hi, I'm Haseeb Gilani. I specialize in Business Development, B2B Sales, Client Acquisition, and Sales Pipeline Development, helping businesses identify new markets, connect with decision-makers, and create new business opportunities.

My experience covers the business development process, from market research and prospect identification to outreach, relationship building, follow-ups, and opportunity tracking.

My approach is focused on understanding business needs, identifying suitable prospects, communicating value clearly, and building relationships that can develop into long-term business opportunities.

> Good outreach is not about sending more messages.
> It's about starting the right conversations.

How I Support Business Growth

01 Research

Understand the market, ideal customer profile, target industries, and decision-makers.

02 Target

Build relevant and segmented prospect lists.

03 Reach

Use personalized LinkedIn outreach, cold email, Upwork proposals, and Facebook outreach.

04 Follow Up

Nurture conversations, track responses, and move qualified opportunities toward meetings.

The goal isn't random outreach. It's a repeatable process that connects the right businesses with the right opportunities.
